

Hunter College Japanese Program Presents
(Re)Envisioning Contemporary Japanese Traditional Performing Arts through the Non-Professional
November 14, 2020

ONLINE Symposium
Begins at 1PM EST

The “non-professional” artist may be identified in a variety of ways—as folk artist, as amateur, as aficionados, etc.— but each makes up an important part of Japan’s traditional performing arts’ heritage. This ONLINE symposium and Livestream event will examine this oft overlooked group of players and consider the ways in which their activities contribute to a greater understanding of Japan’s traditional performing arts.

LIVESTREAM Event
Begins at 7:30PM EST

Yamaguchi Sagi kyōgen: Chidori (Catching Plovers)
 Hosted by the Hunter College Japanese Program &
 the Yamaguchi Sagi kyōgen Preservation Society

Symposium and Livestream will be conducted on Zoom.

For more information please go to the Hunter College Japanese Program Facebook Page at <https://www.facebook.com/HunterCollegeJD/events>

This event is generously supported in part by a donation from
The Albert & Esther Cory Foundation and by

PRESENTATIONS BY

1:00PM EST

Diego Pellecchia, Kyoto Sangyo
 University,

Noh amateurs: Practice and Practitioners

2:00PM EST

Iga Rutkowska, Adam Mickiewicz
 University,

Between Past and Future- Amateur Kabuki in the XXI Century

2:50PM EST

Richard Emmert & John Oglevee, Theatre Nohgaku,

Theatre Nohgaku: In and Out of Japan/ese

4:00PM EST

Alex Rogals, Hunter College, Yamaguchi Sagi kyōgen: Local

Tradition the Yamaguchi Community

KEYNOTE

4:50PM EST

Terence Lancashire, Osaka Ohtani
 University,

Iwami Kagura 2019 Tour in the UK

PANELIST Q&A ROUNDTABLE

6PM EST

To register for the Symposium,
 click here.

To Register for the Livestream
 click here.

Registration Required